President, Armas To Confer Nov. 9

Ike May Fly Home Nov. 11

DENVER (AP)—The Denver White House said Tuesday it is a good guess at this point that President Eisenhower will leave the hospital Nov. 11 for Washington, two days after a visit from President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters the Nov. 11 date has been discussed among Eisenhower's doctors and with the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower. He said that "it's a good guess" for the departure time but that a final decision will not be made until Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, and the other physicians have examined Eisenhower this weekend.

As things stand now, the chief executive, well on the road to recovery from a Sept. 24 heart attack, would board his plane, the Columbine III, some time the morning of Nov. 11, arrive in Washington around mid-afternoon and spend the weekend there before going on for further convalescence at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Told of remarks attributed to the President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, that Eisenhower will be in no position to announce his 1956 political intentions before January, Hagerty said he thought that Snyder merely was trying to repeat something Dr. White had said previously.

He referred to what White told a news conference here on Oct. 22, that it would be two or three months before the doctors can determine whether Eisenhower will recover completely.

Twice during the morning, the chief executive strolled down the hospital corridor and painted for a time on a new canvas.

Mrs. Eisenhower will observe her 60th birthday Nov. 14. And Hagerty said one of the things that may be discussed this weekend is whether

Not On Estate Night Woodward Shot, Refugee Says

MINEOLA, N. Y. (P)—A refugee German youth insisted Tuesday night he was not on the estate of sportsman William Woodward Jr. when the millionaire's wife shot Woodward to death early last Sunday.

Paul W. Wirths, 22, admitted he had tried to break into the Woodwards' Oyster Bay weekend mansion twice previously, Detective Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell said.

At dusk, Wirths was taken by detectives to the Woodward estate to retrace his movements there.

Mrs. Ann Woodward has said she was so terrified by the signs that a prowler had tried to break in that she fired blindly in the darkness when she heard a noise.

The shotgun blast smashed into Woodward's head and killed him as he stood in the doorway of his bedroom. Mrs. Woodward, hysterical and nearly incoherent, said she recognized her tragic mistake immediately.

Worried by evidences of the prowler, the Woodwards had placed guns near their beds.

Wirths told Pinnell that he wandered around the estate Wednesday night and returned on Friday. On the latter visit the youth was quoted as saying he tried and failed to break into the Woodward home, but did enter the estate's six-car garage.

Pinnell said he was satisfied with Wirths' story thus far and is holding him now on burglary charges not directly related to Woodward's death.

"PANORAMA—USA"

WASHINGTON (P)—The Voice of America has started a new daily broadcast to the people of Europe. Called "Panorama—USA," it will consist of sixty minutes of information about America, its people, its music and culture.

Olympic National Park in Washington state is the only U.S. park with both snow-capped mountains and ocean beaches.

U.S. Shifts Policy On 'Curb Credit' Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is shifting from the policy of steadily tightening credit restraints enforced most of this year to a neutral position, with a weather eye cocked for any signs that the record-smashing business boom might be faltering.

Economic policy makers a few weeks ago were frankly alarmed by inflationary potentialities of the vast pileup of debt this year. Now they are probing the anatomy of the boom for any hidden weaknesses that might tend to deflation.

Dale Carnegie, 66, Author, Lecturer, Died Tuesday

NEW YORK (P)—Dale Carnegie, 66, a once shy youth who rose to wealth and fame as a speech teacher and author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People," died Tuesday.

He had been ill in his home in Forest Hills for a month, but friends had not considered his condition critical. They said his illness started as a case of shingles, an inflammatory skin disease, and that complications developed.

The author and lecturer headed the Carnegie Institute of Effective Speech and Human Relations, which conducts course in 750 United States cities and towns and in 27 foreign lands. A half million persons have taken the courses.

His widow, Mrs. Dorothy Price Vanderpool Carnegie, said the institute will be continued under her direction and that plans her husband had made to expand the courses will be carried out. She has been executive vice president of the institute.

Besides his widow, Carnegie is survived by a daughter, Donna Dale, who will be four years old next month.

Funeral services will be held Thursday in the Church in The Gardens, Forest Hills. Burial will be in Belton, Mo.

Carnegie's book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," published in 1936, had a sale of about four million copies. Another of the various books he wrote was "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living."

"The greatest tragedy about human nature," he once said, "is that we put off our living. Life, we learn too late, is in the living of it."

Carnegie was born Nov. 24, 1888, on a farm near Maryville, Mo. Later the family moved to another farm near Warrensburg, Mo., where he attended State Teachers College.

COLD WEATHER, MORE SNOW THAN USUAL FOR NEXT 30 DAYS

WASHINGTON (P)—The Weather Bureau Tuesday predicted colder than normal weather during November in the northwest quarter of the nation, the Great Lakes Region and the Central Plains. More snow than usual is expected in the northern third of the country.

Following is the text of the forecast:

"The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for November calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the northwestern quarter of the nation as well as in the Great Lakes region and Central Plains. Above normal temperatures are predicted for the Southwest, Southeast, and northern New England. In remaining areas near normal temperatures are anticipated with large week-to-week fluctuations.

"Precipitation, some in the form of snow, is expected to exceed normal over the northern third of the country, but subnormal rainfall is predicted for the southern third. In the remaining area near normal amounts are in prospect."

CITIZENS ROLL AS CHURCH CHIMES SHAKE, RATTLE, ROLL

ROANOKE RAPIDS, N. C. (P)—A Halloween prankster had the whole town hopping at 11:30 Monday night when he played a recording of "Shake, Rattle and Roll" on the chimes amplifier of the First Baptist Church.

"He turned the volume on full blast and, boy, did he wake up the whole town," said reporter Carl Churchill of the Roanoke Rapids Herald.

Police have the recording of the live hit. They're looking for the prankster.

British, Greeks Battle In Pastras, Report 120 Hurt

ATHENS, Greece (P)—Police fired on anti-British demonstrators during a pitched battle in the city of Pastras Tuesday. At least 80 civilians and 40 policemen were reported injured. The U.S. Information Center was attacked and damaged slightly.

The riots, described as Greece's most serious outbreak so far over the Cyprus issue, raged for five hours before they were quelled by reinforced police and armored cars. Fifty persons were reported arrested.

Demonstrations also were reported in other Greek towns.

The demonstrators called for an end to British rule over the east Mediterranean island of Cyprus. The Greek-descended majority on the island have been violently demanding the right of self-determination, leading to eventual union with Greece.

Their demand is opposed by the Turkish-descended minority among the Cypriots and by the British government, which maintains its Middle East defense headquarters on the island.

The mob stoned the U.S. Information Service Building, shattering windows.

Faure Asks Vote Of Confidence On Election Plan

PARIS (P)—Staking his government's future on the outcome, Premier Edgar Faure Tuesday night asked the National Assembly to give him a vote of confidence on his project for early parliamentary elections.

The vote will be taken Wednesday in a session beginning at 9 p.m. The atmosphere of the Assembly Tuesday night was definitely unfavorable to Faure. If the ballot goes against him, French parliamentary procedure requires that he resign.

The Premier made his demand after the Assembly refused by a vote of 459 to 145 to consider a proposed new election law which the government had backed.

The specific point on which Faure asked for the vote was a government bill ending the present Assembly on Jan. 2. This would necessitate elections in mid-December. The Assembly's term now is not legally up until next June.

Faure's action put the Assembly in a dilemma. Most deputies say they favor new elections—although some have been secretly fighting a delaying action.

At the same time, many deputies insist that a new election law must be approved before a test at the ballot boxes. But the Assembly has not been able to make up its mind on what system it wants. Eleven different plans have been presented and turned down in three days of debate.

Arrest Two Men For Questioning, One Admitted Seeing Slain Boys

LADYSMITH, Wis. (P)—Two men arrested in an abandoned farmhouse near here—one of whom was said to have at first admitted then denied he saw three Chicago schoolboys the night of their brutal murder—were returned to Chicago for continued questioning.

Asst. State's Atty. Frank Ferlic identified the men as Ed Kline, 30, and Charles Driscoll, 19, both of Chicago, who came here last Wednesday. Their arrest was ordered after Driscoll's mother told authorities they had been together from 5 p.m. till sometime after 11:30 p.m. the night the three boys were strangled.

The boys, Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and John's brother Anton, 11, were murdered Oct. 16 and their bodies were found Oct. 18.

"Both men deny any participation in the killings," Ferlic told newsmen after questioning the pair in the Rusk County Jail.

"There were matters which Kline talked about which appear inconsistent, matters concerning his mental background that must be checked to determine the reliability of his statements."

Police officers who accompanied Ferlic, took scrapings from the trunk of the 1947 maroon automobile in which Kline and Driscoll

Navy Adds First Ship With Guided Missiles

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Navy put into its fleet Tuesday the first guided missile weapon ship—fore-runner of what it said would be "literally dozens" of others in the next five years.

And in recommissioning the big cruiser Boston, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said also that within the "next couple of years" the Navy hopes to expand its nuclear engine program for ships of many types including guided missile craft, carriers and frigates.

Symbolic of the pioneering position of the Boston, a veteran of World War II sea battles which has been rebuilt into a robot weapon ship for fighting enemy planes, is the huge numeral "1" painted on her bow.

The function of the Boston and other cruisers, destroyers and frigates to follow her, will be to provide antiaircraft protection for a carrier task force. These ships have the speed and the seakeeping ability to work with the big carrier forces which operate at 30 knots or more.

The Boston carries four missile launchers, located on the after portion of the cruiser.

Official "briefers" said the Boston can put four "Terrier" missiles into the air in eight-tenths of a second. Almost everything in the process of bringing the missiles up from deep down in an armored magazine to loading them is automatic.

The Terrier missile looks and acts like this:

It is pencil shape, sharp nosed, about 10 feet long without its booster for launching, which adds another 10 feet. Diameter of the missile is approximately 16 inches. Four stabilizing fins are located midway up the missile's length. Four more are at the tail, which give the missile up and down and sideways direction.

The Terrier is a radar "beam rider." Instantly upon its launching from the rack, it moves into the path of a radar beam which has been "locked on" an approaching enemy plane. When it has ridden the radar beam to the correct distance from the enemy aircraft, a proximity fuse detonates the warhead. It does not need actual impact to explode.

Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Arriaza said they discussed "the entire international situation," but he declined to give details.

He said: "they were in complete agreement on all points," and added there were "reasons to be satisfied with this visit."

Dulles flew from the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva for the talks. He returned six hours later.

Before the meeting it was reported Spain would ask more financial aid from the United States in exchange for the bases the Americans are building here under an agreement signed two years ago.

A well-informed diplomatic source said the troubled Middle East was one of the main topics discussed. France has been having trouble in her Tunisian and Moroccan protectorates and in Algeria, and some of the rest of the Moslem world is accepting or considering aid from Eastern European communist countries.

Spain, on the other hand, has excellent relations with the Moors of her Moroccan protectorate and is friendly with the other Moslem countries. It could not be learned, however, whether Dulles asked Spanish assistance in helping the French with their difficulties in Morocco.

For a Tibetan sticking out his tongue is a mark of respect.

PARIS (P)—Ex-Sultan of Morocco Mohamed Ben Youssef and French Foreign Ministry Antoine Pinay met privately for two hours Tuesday and emerged talking of "happy perspectives" that probably will lead Ben Youssef quickly back to the throne.

In his communique issued after the meeting, Pinay even referred to Ben Youssef as "sa majeste" (his majesty).

In his first statement since returning to France from two years' exile in Madagascar, Ben Youssef spoke to newsmen of future policies based on "hope, wisdom and reconciliation."

Pinay made a special trip from Geneva, where he is attending the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Immediately after meeting with Pinay, Ben Youssef went into a session with Pinay's right hand man, Henri Yrissou.

drove here. The scrapings, they said, would be analyzed to determine if they contained human blood.

Chief of Police Orville Woods of Ladysmith, who sat in on the questioning, said Driscoll told police of being with Kline the night the schoolboys were slain and their bodies left in Robinson Woods, a Chicago forest preserve district.

Woods said Kline, under questioning by Detective Kelly of the Chicago police department, admitted seeing the schoolboys on Milwaukee avenue on the night of the murder and described in "minute detail" what they were wearing, including a missing numeral on one of the jackets. As the questioning continued, the chief said Kline became agitated and denied seeing the boys that night.

The chief said he and one of the members of his Ladysmith police force, Bernard Sedlacek, were present along with Kelly when Kline made the statement.

Woods said later that officers had found a four-foot length of clothesline rope, apparently stained with blood, in the trunk of the automobile. A handkerchief, which he said "definitely" was blood-stained, was found wedged under the visor of the car, and a mat which belonged in the rear of

Rescue Work Starts: Scene Is Forty Miles North Of Denver

LONGMONT, Colo. (AP)—A United Air Lines plane smashed to bits near here Tuesday night, killing all 44 persons aboard.

It was the second United Air Lines crash in the area within a month.

The DC6 plane was demolished and witnesses said the largest piece was no larger than an automobile body.

"There was nothing left to be done except cover up the bodies," said one of the first persons on the scene.

On Oct. 6 a United Air Lines crash killed 66 persons in the worst commercial air lines disaster in U.S. history. The plane smashed into Medicine Bow Peak near Laramie, Wyo.

Tuesday night's crash was of Flight 629, en route from Denver to Seattle. The plane left Denver at 6:52 p.m. and crashed about 13 minutes later 40 miles north of Denver.

There had been snow flurries during the day but the air had cleared at nightfall.

A United spokesman said the plane was flying on the normal course north to Cheyenne before heading west for a stop at Portland.

Jim Matlack, copublisher of the Longmont Times-Call and one of the first on the scene, said "there was not a sign of life."

"It was terrible wreckage—bodies were just scattered all over. It took me just a few minutes to count nine bodies."

Matlack said that a farmer, Jake Heil, on whose land the plane crashed, said there was "a sort of explosion."

Heil told Matlack: "We ran out, side and it looked to us like a sky-rocket. Minutes after the plane hit there was another explosion."

The noise and rocket-like glare brought a tremendous crowd to the scene immediately and a company of National Guard was called out to control the crowds.

Preparations were made to take the bodies to Greeley mortuaries, about 17 miles east of the crash.

The flight had originated in New York at noon and had made a stop in Chicago before landing in Denver. It left Denver 22 minutes late, headed for Portland and Seattle.

Bob Robbins, a Loveland florist, said he was driving south toward Denver shortly before 7 p.m. (MST) when he saw a flare, then a blinding flash and a loud crash. Bernie Fowler of the Longmont Times-Call, who talked with Robbins, said the crash occurred on the farm of Jake Heil. He said the crash area was about a mile from U.S. 87.

The plane continued to burn two hours after the crash, Fowler said.

Sgt. Bill Horsman of the Colorado highway patrol said he received word from the crash scene that "there just couldn't be any survivors. The wreckage is scattered over a wide area and the wreckage burned."

CHICAGO (P)—United Air Lines said the following were crew members aboard the UAL plane which crashed near Longmont, Colo., Tuesday night:

Capt. L. H. Hall, pilot; First Officer D. A. White, co-pilot; S.F. Arthur, pilot-engineer; Peggy Deddicord and Jacqueline Hinds, stewardesses, all of Seattle.

Rescue Woman Elk Hunter

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. (P)—A Wyoming woman who spent two nights in a driving blizzard high in the rugged Washakie Needles formation of northwestern Wyoming is recovering in a Thermopolis hospital.

Mrs. Mildred Ernst, 55, of Worland, Wyo., was packed about nine miles on a homemade stretcher by a group of Thermopolis high school football players to a point where a National Guard truck could bulldoze through heavy timber and speed her back to safety Monday.

Rescue operations took nearly three days.

Her physician said Mrs. Ernst had suffered extreme high blood pressure aggravated by the high altitude in which she and her husband, Joe, were elk hunting. It was first reported she had suffered a heart attack after collapsing Saturday following a 4½-hour horseback ride on an 11,000-foot mountain.

IKE BIDS MONTY VISIT HIM

LONDON (P)—"Come and see me anyway," said the telegram from President Eisenhower.

And Tuesday night Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery took off by plane for the United States to keep a Saturday appointment with the President in Denver. The date was set before Eisenhower suffered his heart attack.

Toll Commission May Pick Howell To Serve Again

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—The Illinois Toll Road Commission may be called upon to decide in the near future whether Evan Howell will get another two-year term as chairman.

Howell, who was chosen chairman Nov. 20, 1953, acknowledged Tuesday there is a question whether his chairmanship expires two years after that date or whether he serves during an entire biennium. The state begins its biennium on July 1 every odd year.

The commission itself chooses a chairman from among its three members. Howell has a six-year term as a commission member.

Howell told a news conference that the chairmanship would be "quite a proper thing to take up" at the next commission meeting here Nov. 10 but he added that the exact duration of his term was still a legal question.

Gov. Stratton, also asked about it, said he didn't know the question was coming up and that he would "reserve judgment" on whether he felt Howell should be renamed chairman "until the commission meets and discusses it."

CONVICT MAJ. ALLEY OF MISCONDUCT

FT. MEADE, Md. (P)—Maj. Ronald E. Alley Tuesday was convicted of misconduct while a prisoner of the Chinese Communists in Korea.

Eight fellow officers comprising a general court-martial found the 35-year-old artillery officer from Bar Harbor, Maine, guilty of all except a few paragraphs and phrases in the four paragraphs of charges the Army brought against him.

Sentencing was postponed until after a separate hearing on extenuating and mitigating circumstances. The hearing will start Wednesday. Alley faces a possible life sentence.

Specifically, he was convicted of giving military information to the enemy, soliciting similar information from fellow prisoners, informing on fellow prisoners, and cooperating with the Reds in their efforts to convert prisoners to communism.

MEAT-AND-POTATOES EXAMPLE

We hear a lot about the superiority of our standard of living, but not too often do we get a really clear, graphic illustration of how we measure against Europeans and others.

The American Iron and Steel Institute has come up with some comparisons that picture the differences sharply.

The unit of comparison is a market basket containing one pound each of bacon, beef, sugar, potatoes, butter and white bread, a dozen eggs and one quart of milk.

To purchase this basket, an American steel worker must work just one hour and 38 minutes. In Great Britain, the same kind of worker must toil four hours and 45 minutes to earn the contents of the basket. A Swedish steel worker must put in just over five hours.

The biggest shock, quite revealing of its industrial state, comes from France. There a steel worker must work nine hours and 51 minutes to earn the money for food an American can get in a bit more than an hour and a half.

So, it seems, all this talk about a better standard of living is neither inaccurate nor unfairly boastful. The specific facts are more striking than the handsome generalizations we usually hear.

DISQUIETING VIEWPOINT

CIO President Walter Reuther says automation—automatic operation of industrial processes—should bring the country higher living standards. But he fears this advance may come at heavy cost in human suffering and unemployment unless government does some things he recommends.

His list includes a shorter work week, higher minimum wage, more liberal Social Security, some kind of price control, tax cuts for low and middle income families.

In various times and circumstances, any of the suggested measures may be seen as desirable. But Reuther's ready espousal of the entire catalog is troubling.

He complains about the easy assumption of many that the problems of automation will more or less solve themselves. Others might feel that he errs just as badly at the other extreme in assuming that government and more government is the answer to all our future economic problems.

Boyles Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's success story:

Tennessee Williams, who once wrote purely from hunger, has become one of the golden boys of the American writing scene.

He has been so successful that his friends have given him a new nickname: "Tennessee Millions."

At 41 the prolific author has turned out nine full-length plays, a volume of verse, two volumes of short stories, and a collection of a dozen shorter plays called "Twenty-Seven Wagons Full of Cotton."

He has completed for Paramount Pictures a film script of "The Rose Tattoo," starring Burt Lancaster and Anna Magnani — it is the third of his dramas he has adapted for the movies — and his "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is a top Broadway hit.

Most successful people credit their rise to hard work. Williams feels that his own fame came, in large measure, from the revolt stirred in him by his discovery of poverty and what it did to people.

Born in the Episcopal Rectory of his grandfather in Columbus, Miss., he moved at the age of 12 to St. Louis, where his father worked as a salesman for a shoe firm. The family lived in one of a row of ugly brick apartment buildings "the color of dried blood and mustard."

In the south the young writer had been unaware of any distinctions based on wealth.

"But," he says, "we suddenly discovered there were two kinds of people. The rich and the poor, and that we belonged more to the latter."

"If I had been born to this situation I might not have resented it deeply. But it was forced upon my consciousness at the most sensitive age of childhood."

The shock resulted in a rebellion and a social consciousness which Williams feels still marks most of his writing. But the shock paid off well.

"I am glad that I received this bitter education," Williams once wrote, "for I don't think any writer has much purpose back of him unless he feels bitterly the inequities of the society he lives in."

His bread crumb days ended when he left a $17 a week movie usher job for a Hollywood writing assignment at $250 a week.

Williams now can afford to travel anywhere in the world and write where he pleases.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1956 presidential campaign will probably be pretty dull — so far as real issues go — unless events change the picture before campaign time next summer.

Both parties will do the usual talk about the differences between them. But year by year those differences have narrowed until now they are arguments more on details than on basic issues.

The Republicans, for example, have accepted — they'd be committing political suicide if they didn't — the major legislation of the New Deal and "Fair Deal": Social security, minimum wages, collective bargaining, and so on.

In some cases they have expanded on them. In foreign affairs President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have followed the broad policy of President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Eisenhower, whether or not he himself runs again, has set the tone for both parties in 1956. His moderation in policies and personal dealings, made him look before his heart attack, like a sure winner again. Further, a time of high prosperity does not call for boat-rocking innovations.

It's no wonder then that both parties seem to be preparing to present themselves to the voters in 1956 as "moderate." But a campaign based on moderation hardly holds out promise of excitement or extremes.

With Eisenhower unlikely to run, his Republicans seem able to think of nothing but running on his record. And if any of the Democrats who so far look like candidates have big ideas they haven't said so. Their talk has been very moderate.

For this reason the voters may again, as they have in the past two elections, find a lot of difficulty recognizing real differences between the parties.

In 1952, although they picked Eisenhower overwhelmingly, the voters gave his party control of Congress by a hair-thin margin. And in 1954, when they put the Democrats in charge, it was by the same kind of margin.

Yet, some of the issues in those two elections were more bitter and emotional than anything appearing so far on the 1956 horizon.

In 1952 the Republicans banded at their rivals with the then unended Korean War and the charge of Communists-in-government-under-the-Democrats. In 1954, with the war suspended, they trotted out the shopworn Communist theme again.

They can hardly hope to run that one around the track as a major issue again in 1956 unless somehow Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) can emerge from the political limbo into which his own Republicans threw him.

Unless the West suffers disasters, foreign policy may not be much of an issue. The Democrats may complain about the Eisenhower handling of it, but only on details since the basic policy was theirs to begin with.

At the moment the farm problem seems the one most apt to be overheated in 1956. Farm income is declining but Eisenhower sticks to the flexible price support program, promising efforts in other ways to help the farmer.

Adlai Stevenson, making sounds like a candidate, has come out for fixed supports at 90 per cent of parity, but he did that after a lot of hemming and hawing.

Calming Down Period Can Help Whip Insomnia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Once in a while one runs into a person who says he or she has never had any trouble sleeping.

More common to most of us is the experience of sleeping well a good deal of the time but having spells when sleeplessness hits us and we get up in the morning unfreshed. A few people have chronic insomnia more or less continuously and this constitutes quite a problem.

Mr. C. evidently falls in the latter category. She says "What causes insomnia? I have had difficulty in sleeping for the last 23 years, since carrying my daughter and have become a walking drugstore. If I don't take sleeping tablets or turn off the light at night I am awake most of the night and get so weak I stagger when I walk."

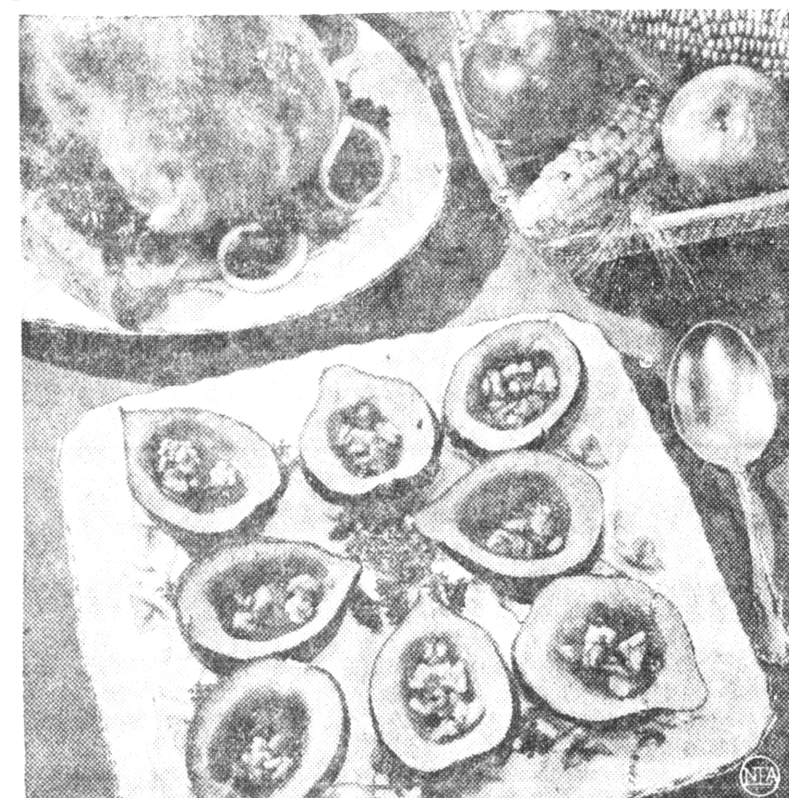

Such an exaggerated kind of sleeping difficulty is hard to explain. It is possible, of course, that it started as a mild form of insomnia but that Mrs. C. has become accustomed to the use of sleeping tablets to such a degree that she is unable to have a restful night without them.

This is an unfortunate situation and shows why it is desirable not to get in the sleeping pill habit if one can possibly avoid it.

Most insomnia is probably caused by inability to throw off worries and cares of the daytime. The person who starts thinking of the office within a few minutes of don't take sleeping tablets or turn off the light at night is kind or another I am awake most of the night and get so weak I stagger when I walk."

Baked Squash Perfect With Thanksgiving Turkey

FOR THE THANKSGIVING dinner, baked squash dressed up with walnuts and maple-flavored syrup gives a festive touch.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Baked acorn squash goes perfectly with the Thanksgiving roast turkey. According to Mrs. Joseph Haddock of Baltimore, Md., if you add coarsely chopped walnuts and maple-blended syrup during the baking process, you get a wonderful extra flavor.

Baked Acorn Squash (Makes 6 servings)

Three medium acorn squash, 1/3 cup maple-blended syrup, 3 tablespoons butter, salt, 1 cup nuts, chopped coarsely.

Cut squash in half and remove seeds. Cover bottom of baking dish with boiling water. Place squash, cut side down, in the water and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Turn squash cut side up in pan, place about 1 tablespoon syrup and 1/2 tablespoon butter in center of each squash half. Sprinkle with salt and about 2 teaspoons chopped nuts. Bake 30 minutes, or until tender.

Everybody talks glowingly about giblet gravy with turkey. Here's an excellent recipe from Williamsburg, Va., famous for fine food.

Mushroom-Giblet Gravy (Yield: Approximately 4 cups)

Three medium mushrooms, sliced, 1/2 teaspoon minced onion, 3 tablespoons turkey fat or butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 cups turkey stock, 1 teaspoon salt or salt to taste, 1/16 teaspoon garlic powder, 1/4 cups chopped giblets, 1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Saute mushrooms and onion in turkey fat or butter. Blend in flour. Add turkey stock, seasonings, giblets and kitchen bouquet. Cook until slightly thickened. Stir in chopped eggs. Serve over turkey stuffing.

NOTE: The early Williamsburg cooks gave gravy and stew a rich brown color with sugar or flour browned in butter.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Oyster bisque in cups, roast turkey with cornbread stuffing, mushroom-giblet gravy, molded cranberry sauce, whipped potatoes, acorn squash with walnuts and maple-flavored syrup, buttered white onions, hot rolls, butter or margarine, watercress and orange salad, French dressing, pumpkin pie, candied ginger, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

1956 Campaign's TV, Radio Expense to Be Doubled

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Both Republicans and Democrats expect their radio and television costs in 1956 to be doubled what they were in 1952.

That means a total outlay of around 12 million dollars, or 15 to 20 cents per voter.

The Senate Elections Committee reported that all radio and TV time bought by political organizations in 1952 cost over six million dollars.

The Republicans spent $3,400,000 and the Democrats $2,600,000. This covers presidential, congressional, state and local contests.

On the Eisenhower-Stevenson race alone, Republican organizations spent around $1,500,000, while the Democrats spent about $800,000. The GOP figure includes over $600,000 spent by the Citizens for Eisenhower and Nixon group, which had its own budget, separate from the national committee's.

The 1952 cost for a half-hour broadcast on the networks was between $100,000 and $150,000, depending on time.

L. Richard Gulay, director of public relations for the Republicans, and Sam Brightman, press chief for the Democrats, say they have been informed these costs will be doubled next year. Gulay says they're 90 per cent higher.

Both time on the air and "peremption cost" must be paid. The latter is the amount that must be turned over to commercial broadcast sponsors who relinquish their programs.

The rise in cost is due not only to the increase in number of radio and TV sets, but to the increase in number of broadcasting stations.

Federal Communications Commission summarizes the U. S. growth like this:

In 1952 there were 105 million receivers, including 18 million TV and nine million FM sets.

Today there are 120 million TV receivers, including 36 million TV (150,000 color sets) and 10 million FM.

The Census Bureau recently reported that 32 million American households, or two-thirds of the total, had one or more receivers. The big increase, of course, has been in television—100 per cent.

In the 1954 elections, a half hour of class A evening time cost $60,000 for all TV networks. The same time on all radio networks cost only $10,000.

These figures are for time only, and do not include production costs nor pre-emption costs. But they are bound to be higher next year because of the increase in number of broadcasters.

FCC figures estimate that there will be a total of 4125 broadcasters in 1956, compared with 3184 in 1952's campaign. These include commercial AM and FM, educational FM and TV and commercial TV.

Neither Democrats nor Republicans have prepared their budgets in detail for the '56 campaign. National political organizations are now limited by the Hatch Act to a three-million-dollar maximum. The major parties get around this by organizing any number of separate committees.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the Senate Elections Committee, is author of a bill which would increase the maximum to 12 million dollars for each party. Congressional campaign funds ceilings would also be raised.

In view of the rapidly rising costs of air time, chartered plane travel, special trains, pamphlets, posters, billboards and everything else, such an increase seems only realistic.

Favorable action on the Hennings bill is predicted for next year.

Various estimates have put all political campaign expenses in 1952 at 50 million to 80 million dollars. They are conservatively expected to go to 100 million or 150 million next year.

MORE WATER ACTION FOR ACTON—Auto repairman Joe Acton of Dublin, Ireland, seems to be playing it safe in his latest water contraption. Acton, who once built an outboard motorboat from a truck roof, has come up with one made from two truck fenders—and a truck tire inner tube. He hasn't revealed whether the tube is for comfort or safety, but he has disclosed other details. The "boat" rips along at nine m.p.h. and, like a lot of cars he works on, it "gets you there and back."

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Through all history the young woman, separated from her lover either by an iron-handed parent or the restrictions of position and tradition, has been an object of universal sympathy.

When she does the separating herself, she attracts confused reactions—sympathy, to be sure, but also a certain admiration, perhaps offset by a certain disapproval.

When she was but a child, Princess Margaret saw her uncle renounce the throne of Britain for the woman he loved. Because of that, her sister is Queen of England. Because of that, her raising has been even more careful than it would have been otherwise.

Because she is a member of the family which is sworn to defend the official faith of Britain, because the tenets of that faith forbade her marriage to Peter Townsend, she has drowned her love in the dignity which surrounds the British throne.

Many people had hoped and expected that she would kick over the traces, marry the man she loves, and let dignity go hang.

Many thought she had enjoyed vast advantages because of her birth, and that she must accept the attendant responsibilities, too.

Americans can hardly conceive of the responsibilities attached to membership in the British Royal family. They are servants of the state after a fashion never approached by any slave. They have no power of their own. They originate no measures in Parliament, yet Parliament and the government act in their name. They, of all people, must obey the rules. When Edward didn't, both the family and the realm were badly shaken.

Margaret has obeyed the rules. She has not sought to evade the issue by pretending that Townsend was merely a friend. She loves him, and she has put her sense of duty first.

Behind her robe of dignity she may hide a broken heart, but she has become a woman of very great stature.

The Rev. Heber Cherry, pastor of the Church of God, is filling the pulpit at the Church of God in Lincoln for two weeks.

Mrs. Jessie Howard, who has been a medical patient in St. John's hospital, Springfield, for two weeks, was brought home in the Gainer ambulance Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Sam Allen, who was a surgical patient in Our Saviour's hospital, Jacksonville, for the past few weeks, has returned to her home in Prentice.

Dr. White, Ike's Heart Specialist, Discusses Coronary Thrombosis

(Editor's Note: Is the strain of the presidency an element in President Eisenhower's heart attack? Would greater delegation of duties lessen the chances of future presidents suffering similar attacks? What is the need for greater research to discover causes and prevention of heart attacks and heart diseases? Dr. Paul D. White, the President's heart specialist, discusses these and other prime questions about the nation's No. 1 killer in the following exclusive report, written for The Associated Press.)

By PAUL DUDLEY WHITE, M.D.
Copyright 1955
The Associated Press

The President's recent heart attack has quite naturally emphasized the seriousness of this most common of the important illnesses of the middle-aged and older male in the United States of America today.

A good many of us doctors have, for the past 15 years or more, tried to bring this No. 1 public health problem into the prominent position which it deserves, and which it has now overnight attained.

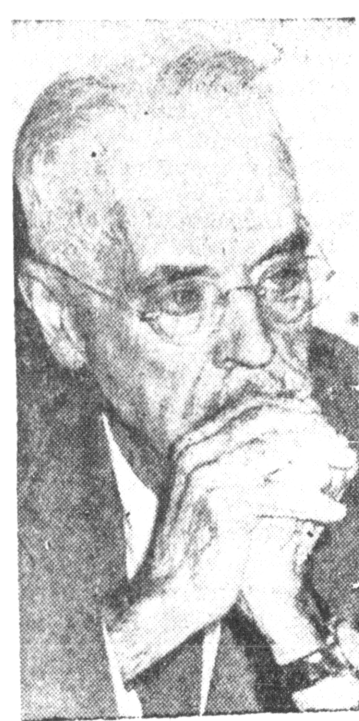

For the moment it is of course over-headlined, but we must not settle back into the semicomplacent state about it current before Sept. 24, 1955.

Neither must we doctors be forced to give advice about what to do to prevent this disease, or at least to delay its appearance, before we know the answers ourselves.

In the present state of our limited knowledge, we have no definite answers, only opinions and suggestions. But if we all, doctors and laymen alike, put our shoulders to the wheel we should have some real answers within the next decade or two.

Incidentally, the problem is related not alone to the health of the leaders in the professions and in business nowadays, but also to the problem of the artisan, farmer and laborer who years ago were thought to be protected in some way through their physical activity.

Physicians of this country, and many physicians in other lands dealing with patients living the way we live in this country, are painfully aware of the common occurrence of coronary thrombosis. But we have no adequate knowledge of its actual frequency. The most important problem concerns increases in frequency with increasing age, but many old persons escape and many young ones, for example under age 45, are attacked. Thus, age is really not the most determinant cause.

Thirdly there is sex. It is very well recognized that in middle age and younger the male is very much more prone to the disease than the female, and so eventually needs to have more protection. Even now, experiments as to the value of hormonal treatment and protection are in progress.

Fourthly there is body build. It has been shown that at least in youth and middle age the mesomorph (broad muscular male or female) is more likely to develop the disease than the ectomorph with his skinny build, or the endomorph, the person with a round build.

Fifthly there is personality. It is thought by some that the intensive, overactive, and ambitious person is more often the candidate. There may be something in this, but again we find that many such persons live to an old age free of coronary thrombosis, while others who seem placid and lazy come down with the disease.

And finally, heredity seems to be a definite factor, in part at least by influencing body build, personality and, in a few cases, body or blood chemistry.

Now let us turn to the possible environmental factors which are even more debatable. One that is on everyone's tongue just now, including my own, is that of stress and strain, which is so hard to measure and yet which is obviously a possible factor in the case of any President whose job very probably is about the hardest in the world today.

After only a few days of observation of the constant strain of the publicity which dogs every step of the President, and the knowledge of the multitudinous chores of which he should be relieved, I spoke out in protest.

The strain is well nigh intolerable both physically and mentally, I am sure. But whether it has any direct causative effect in producing arteriosclerosis remains doubtful, at least in my own mind. (Arteriosclerosis is the narrowing or clogging inside arteries so that blood flow to the heart muscle may more easily be blocked by blood clots.) I would grant that it is at least a severe strain on the nerves and can quite possibly be an aggravating factor superimposed on basic or other environment causes, but much more research is needed before we shall have adequate answers.

Certainly one good thing can ensue from this illness of President Eisenhower, and that is the reduction of at least some of the strain of the job for the sake of himself and of future presidents.

A second environmental and adjustable factor which may well prove to be the most important of all is diet.

All sorts of opinions have been expressed, including four in particular:

1. That it makes no difference at all.
2. That it is total calories and thus general overnutrition that counts most; harmful because it results in deposition of fat in the coronary artery wall.
3. That it is not the calories per se, but the total fat content of the food that is of prime importance.
4. That it is the animal fat and not necessarily the total fat that should be blamed.

Studies to date tend to support the idea that dietary fat is in some way responsible.

A third possible factor is that of exercise. Some believe that vigorous exercise not only helps the general health but also actually aids in some way in a healthy person to delay the onset of serious coronary arteriosclerosis.

We have as yet quite inadequate information about this, although many of us, including President Eisenhower, have felt that exercise makes them feel better.

Other possible environmental factors which need appraisal, although at the moment they appear to be much less important than the three already mentioned, include climate, the use of tobacco and of alcohol, and local religious and social customs.

The study of the relationship of these various environmental factors or ways of life to coronary heart disease—called epidemiology—has only just begun. Such study will require years to complete. Because of its complexity it is a difficult research, but since it is very important, it constitutes one of the chief reasons for the increased need for research funds.

Steadily during the last decade, there has been a very encouraging growth of funds to aid research and training-for-research in coronary arteriosclerosis and thrombosis and other causes and kinds of heart disease.

The present support comes from four sources:

The largest amount is nowadays supplied by the National Heart Institute of the U.S. Public Health Service, established by act of Congress in June 1948.

The largest private organization in the field, the American Heart Assn., comes second. There follow the various foundations and in particular the Life Insurance Cardiovascular Research Fund, which totals now nearly a million dollars a year.

Finally, there are innumerable small private research funds like that of our own at the Massachusetts General Hospital to which private patients not infrequently contribute.

Despite the existence of all these sources of supply for medical research, the demands have not yet been met.

We need in addition more research fellowships and more training grants to teach better what is already known, and particularly to give training in research methods for the development of more well-trained investigators.

Even with all its length and luxury city driving is easier in a 1956 Lincoln

This 2-door hardtop is one of 3 models in Lincoln's new Premier series. There are also 2 Lincoln Capris to choose from.

Lincoln breaks with the past to prove length and luxury can be combined with true sports car maneuverability.

And the acid test of the new Lincoln's astonishing maneuverability is found on crowded city streets. You'll hardly believe the effortless ease with which a Lincoln threads through traffic.

For here is more than a car of length—with the lean look of an arrow. (Over a foot longer in the frame than last year.) Here is more than a car of luxury—with richness in every detail.

Here, above all, is the fine car you can drive. And that's the result of the power of the new Lincoln—285 horsepower—the most powerful Lincoln ever built. It's the result of Lincoln's more advanced transmission that not only gives faster acceleration, but gives it with a smoothness never before known. And it's the result of Lincoln's improved suspension that helps make turning so easy.

Come in and drive the new, long, luxurious Lincoln. Discover how responsive, how maneuverable a truly big car can be. And you'll discover, too, why 1956 is the year of the Lincoln.

Gulf's New Super-Refined GAS-OIL TEAM

...for more miles per gallon

Gulf No-Nox burns clean. Here's proof: Note the black deposit, on plate at left, caused by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the part which Gulf refines out in making New Super-Refined NO-NOX. But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right.

Prove it in your own car. Now—on the road in your own car—see for yourself how New Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX can give you the best in motor performance and protection... plus more miles per gallon in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

...for more miles per quart

Gulfpride Select works clean. Here's why: Most oils are refined only to the stage shown in Graduate A. Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process, removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, shown in Graduate B. Graduate C contains new super-refined oil.

Prove it in your own car. This new oil can give you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

REMEMBER: No gasoline alone can give you today's finest performance... no oil alone can give you today's finest protection. Get the super-power Gas-Oil Team...

Learning that the United States and Mexico were at war, General Fremont raised the Bear Flag, declaring California an independent republic May 23, 1846.

A Navy sloop under Commodore Sloat arrived at Monterey and Fremont quickly reaffirmed his loyalty to the United States.

Sloat needed riflemen and Kit Carson joined the Navy temporarily. After a sea-sick voyage to San Diego, Kit said: "I'll never get on a ship again." He returned to the Army.

REDS CLAIM MACAO—Communist China has claimed the 400-year-old Portuguese colony of Macao and warned that "continued occupation" of the city and coastal islands can no longer be tolerated. The colony consists of the city of Macao and three small offshore islands. The Communist Chinese broadcasts did not mention Hong Kong, the British crown colony which occupies a similar position off the South China coast, but the Red move increased the possibility that they may claim Hong Kong next.

MAMIE LEAVES SERVICES—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower emerges from the Post Chapel at Fitzsimons Army Hospital base where she attended services for the first time Sunday. Behind the First Lady are: Secret service agent, Mrs. Martin Griffin, and Maj. Gen. Martin Griffin, commanding general of the hospital.

PATRIOTS—This new Belgian stamp honors the Liege Volunteers, who helped make Belgium an independent monarchy. It shows a part of the Soubre painting, "Departure of Liege volunteers of 1830." Stamp marked the opening of the "Romanticism in the Province of Liege" exposition in that city.

CHANGES MADE—This is the Peggy King you've seen on TV. Now there's a "new" one singing on comic George Gobel's TV show. Peggy's on a glamor kick and has taken off 10 pounds, had two front teeth capped and lightened her hair.

UPSWOPT STYLE—Government gal Jeanne Marcuzzo displays a smart cotton jacket made from mill sweepings. The fabric, a new fine weave developed by Dept. of Agriculture researchers, looks like linen and wears and feels like linen. For commercial production, the cloth would be made of short staple cotton, pretty much of a drug on the market. This one was made of mill sweepings just to prove it could be done. Development of new cotton fabrics like this helps to reduce America's great surplus of short-staple cotton.

New Styling for 1956 Buicks

The classic beauty of Buick styling for 1956 is exemplified in this photo showing the new front end with its V-shaped grille, the distinctive rear end design of the Roadmaster and the profile of the new four-door hardtop in the Super series. For 1956 Buick offers a four-door hardtop in every series, higher compression V-8 engines that develop 255 horsepower in the Roadmaster, Super and Century, and 220 horsepower in the Special, and a new variable pitch Dynaflo transmission that improves performance without sacrificing any of Buick's traditional smoothness of operation. Numerous changes also have been made in the chassis to improve ride and stability. Dynaflo is standard equipment on all but the Special.

CBS Television Announces Cage Schedule

NEW YORK (P)—Six basketball games involving Illinois and Northwestern will be telecast Saturday afternoons over the CBS television network this season.

The network said Tuesday the telecasts will run from 2 to 3:45 p.m. (CST).

The schedule includes:

Dec. 17, Washington U. at Illinois (Champaign, Ill.); Jan. 28, Northwestern at Minnesota (Minneapolis, Minn.); Feb. 11 Ohio State at Illinois (Champaign, Ill.); Feb. 18, Illinois at Michigan State (East Lansing, Mich.); Feb. 25, Indiana at Northwestern (Evanston, Ill.); March 3, Illinois at Iowa (Iowa City, Iowa).

Illinois Offense Still Rolling; Jefferson Has 5.5

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Illinois' national ranking offense, held to a negligible 106 yards against Purdue, still maintains definite superiority over cumulative record of opponents in all departments.

Coach Ray Elliott's squad has gained nearly 2000 yards in six games, while holding opponents to 1617. In rushing, Illinois hold a 1369-1093 edge. In passing, the margin is 616-524.

Illinois has scored 100 points to 87 for California, Iowa State, Ohio State, Minnesota, Michigan State, and Purdue. Illinois lead 108-82 in first downs, 395-335 in total number of plays, and 369-35.4 in punting average.

Leading the Illinois offense is junior Harry Jefferson, White Plains, N. Y. halfback. He has carried the ball 81 times for 443 yards, an average of 5.5 yards per try.

Top rushing average is that of Junior Abe Woodson, Chicago (Austin) halfback, who has carried the ball 32 times for 257 yards, an amazing 8.0 yards per try. He also leads punters with a 38.1 average in 13 kicks.

Em Lindbeck, Kewanee senior, and Hiles Stout, Peoria (Central) junior, continue neck-and-neck in passing. Lindbeck has completed 24 of 51 tries for 321 yards. Stout has hit receivers 17 of 36 tries for 290 yards. Lindbeck also leads the team in scoring with four touchdowns. Top pass receiver is "Mickey" Bates, with six catches for 108 yards.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—A bruised and battered Illinois football team today began preparations for the task of trying to upset Michigan's unbeaten Wolverines, no. 1 team in the nation, Saturday in Memorial Stadium. Kick off for the annual Dad's Day game will be 1:30 p.m. (CST).

Elliott sent his squad through only a light workout in sweat clothes Monday, reviewing offensive and defensive assignments, and plans little contact during the week to allow squad members to recover from a grueling bout with Purdue's gigantic line.

No serious injuries will handicap the Illinois and Elliott hopes his light work routine will bring the squad to a physical and mental peak for the Wolverine engagement.

"We know we have a job to do," Elliott said. "From scouting reports, it's evident this Michigan team deserves to be ranked no. 1 in the nation. It's versatile on attack, tough on defense, and has the kind of poise which makes it dangerous every minute."

It's no secret the Illinois team victory, perhaps more than any other game on the schedule. The Illinois-Michigan series has always been closely fought. In the last 10 years, each team has won five games and there isn't a run-away score in the decade.

Last year, Elliott's undermanned team gave its best effort before losing 14-7, a defeat which broke a four-game winning skein for Illinois.

Elliott plans no lineup changes, although he still lists left end, quarterback, and right halfback as positions up for grabs as far as starting roles are concerned. Rod Hanson, sophomore from Harvey, and Gary Francis, junior from Bloomington, are contending for the end spot. Em Lindbeck, Kewanee senior, and Hiles Stout, Peoria junior, for quarterback. Mickey Bates, Kewanee senior, and Rolla McMullen, Canton junior, for right half.

Michigan Highly Talented; Scout Leo Johnson

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—"Michigan is a highly talented football team, individually and collectively, and has the great poise which makes a championship club," Scout Leo Johnson reported today. Illinois tackles the unbeaten Wolverines Saturday in Memorial Stadium in its annual Dad's Day game.

"The members of this team are all skilled football players," Johnson says. "For example, every back can throw, there are numerous fine kickers on the squad, and the overall depth is exceptional."

On defense, the Wolverines are sound and tough, Johnson points out. While not a big team, Michigan is quick, alert, has good speed, and is extremely mobile. No opponent has been able to relax at any time in any game with these "opportunists," Johnson says.

"They strike fast to score, are tough up the middle and outside, and have fine throwing."

In the line, Johnson feels that Tom Maentz and Ron Kramer are two of the nation's outstanding ends. Kramer has returned to duty after an injury suffered in the Army game but should be in top shape by Saturday. The tackles, Jim Orwig and Al Sigman, and the guards, Dick Hill and Ed Meads, along with center Jim Bates, are rated as good, solid football men.

Terry Barr at left halfback is probably the most consistent running back in Johnson's opinion, although he lacks the sheer speed of his replacement, Jim Pace. Lou Baldacci is a fine fullback and Tony Brannoff rates as "dangerous any time he gets the ball."

Michigan's two quarterbacks are about of equal ability, Johnson says. "One week, it's Jim Van Pelt going great, then the next it will be Jim Maddock. Whoever is in there, the Michigan attack doesn't suffer."

Maddock was the star of Michigan's victory over Iowa last week, while Van Pelt stood out defensively while he was in the game.

Indians Release Ferris Fain

CLEVELAND (P)—Ferris Fain got his unconditional release from the Cleveland Indians Tuesday, leaving the Tribe with its longstanding first baseman problem now just a little more urgent.

It was the second release in six months for Fain, who will be 34 in March. The Detroit Tigers cut him loose last July, six months after they obtained him in a trade which sent their first baseman, Walt Dropo, to the Chicago White Sox.

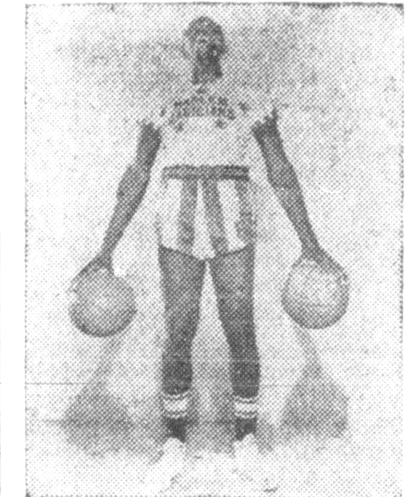

A gimpy leg caused Fain's downhill slide from the years 1951-52 when he hit 344 and 327 to win the American League batting crown. Last season with Cleveland he played in 113 games, many of them for only a few innings, and his 260.

His departure leaves the Tribe with Vic Wertz, a converted outfielder, as the No. 1 first baseman and Joe Altobelli, a rookie as Wertz' understudy.

Auto Racing Schedules In Process

INDIANAPOLIS (P)—The newly formed Contest Committee of the U. S. Auto Club will start setting up 1956 auto race schedules here Nov. 12-13.

Stock car race promoters and auto manufacturers have been invited to the first session to schedule stock car races.

The schedule of big car championship races will be drafted later.

The new committee will formally take over auto racing supervision Jan. 1 from the Contest Board of the American Automobile Assn. The AAA decided several months ago to divorce itself from racing, largely because of a rash of deaths on tracks and among race spectators.

Archie Moore Agrees To Defend Title Jan. 10

NEW YORK (P)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore Tuesday agreed to defend his title against Yolande Pompey of Trinidad in London Jan. 10.

The announcement was made by Charley Johnston, Moore's manager, following a conference with James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club and Jack Solomons, British promoter.

Pompey, 26, is the fourth ranking 175-pound contender.

Terms were not immediately announced.

It will be the fifth title defense for Moore, who will be 39 on Dec. 13. In his last defense, he knocked out middleweight ruler Bobo Olson in the third round June 22 in New York.

Moore then made a bid for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown and was knocked out in the ninth round on Sept. 21.

Calvin Griffith Named President Of Senators

WASHINGTON (P)—Calvin R. Griffith Tuesday was named president of the Washington Senators baseball club.

The Senators' elected him to take the place of Clark Griffith, baseball's "Old Fox" who died last Thursday. Calvin is an adopted son of Clark's.

The younger Griffith has been executive vice president of the club and in recent years, as Clark Griffith's aide, assumed many of the administrative tasks.

No other change was made among club officers as the Board of Directors held its first meeting since Griffith's death.

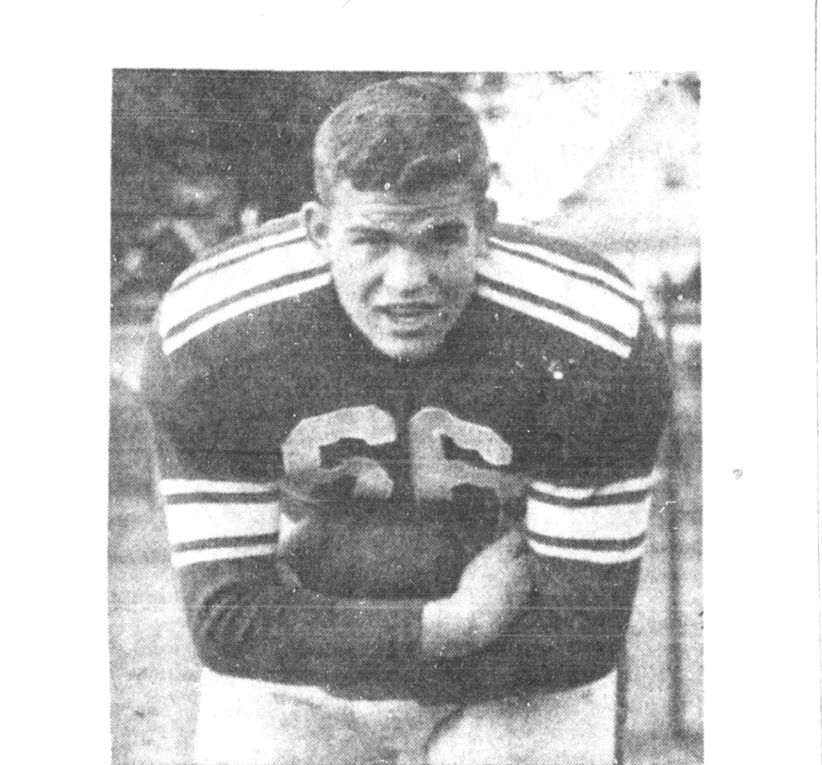

CALLS MEETING PHILADELPHIA (P)—Bert Bell, National Football League commissioner, Tuesday called a meeting of club owners on Nov. 28 at Philadelphia for the annual bonus pick for eligible clubs and for each club to select three players from the eligible list.

Bell said the Cards, Steelers and Packers are eligible for the bonus pick.

Christy Mathewson reached or passed the 25-game mark in victories on eight occasions.

FAN BREEZES

By BILL MERRIS

It looks as if Bob Kraushaar's Crimsons will play their final two games of the season without fullback Skip Dyer. Skip injured his left leg in the Feitshans game last Friday night. Yesterday it was decided to place the injured leg in a cast. Nothing is broken but the doctors think it will heal faster if it is placed in the plaster. We don't know the exact extent of the injury and neither does coach Bob. However, we do know the new injury has nothing to do with Skip's previous trouble with his knees. The Junior back has had trouble with his knees before. In fact, he couldn't play baseball last spring because of leg trouble. But this injury is something new.

Just how long he will be out of action is not known at the present time. The doctors have stated the cast must remain on some 10 days. If this holds true, it can't come off until next game time next week. This may mean Skip will have to wait until next year to add to his record number of games that is now over the 60 mark.

The Crimsons may gain a back for the Taylorville game Larry Scott, who broke his arm in the Lanphier tilt, worked out yesterday and didn't seem to be bothered too much by the cast on his right arm. If he can go Friday, coach Bob may not be as bad off as he had first anticipated. Larry can move into his right halfback spot. This leaves Mike Belinson for duty elsewhere. Whether he or Ned Jackson or Charley Bruner takes over the fullback slot isn't known at this time.

IC athletic director Al Miller, Franklin principal and noted official Harry Fitzgibbon and a couple other local sports enthusiasts were to attend a Greenfield athletic banquet last night. Coach Al was to deliver the main address. However, the banquet didn't come off. It is rumored the reason the banquet wasn't held is because they couldn't sell tickets. The team had a losing season. It seems to us this is the time to have a banquet.

Maryland Holds First Place In AP Weekly Poll; Sooners Second

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maryland still leads the pack in the national college football ratings with Oklahoma and Michigan close behind.

Although the 1-2-3 clubs all are favored to win handily Saturday, a dangerous comparison on the basis of comparative scores can be made after Oklahoma finishes its game with Missouri. Maryland, looking ahead to UCLA, barely squeaked past Missouri 13-12 in its first game and Michigan slugged Missouri 42-7 in its opener.

The seventh weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters pulled the season's heaviest vote with 220 ballots. Only 32 points separated Maryland, No. 1, from Oklahoma, No. 2, and Michigan, No. 3, was only 78 points back of Oklahoma.

Maryland drew 74 firsts from the 220 ballots and piled up 1,884 points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Oklahoma had 54 firsts and 1,852 points, Michigan 63 firsts and 1,774.

Maryland plays Louisiana State, a club that gave Mississippi a rough afternoon. Oklahoma takes on Missouri and Michigan battles Illinois (3-3) but a rugged contest.

Michigan State moved up a peg to the No. 4 spot by bombing Wisconsin 27-0 and Navy dropped from fourth to ninth by losing to Notre Dame. The Irish advanced from ninth to sixth by the 21-7 convincer over Navy. Michigan State plays Purdue this week. Notre Dame hooks up with winless Penn and Navy meets deflated Duke.

UCLA gained support by rolling over California 47-0 and jumped up one position to the No. 5 spot. Next on the UCLA's list is the College of the Pacific.

The top teams with won-lost records and first place votes in parentheses:

1. Maryland (7-0) (74)1884

Small Bethany College Has First Winning Season In 15 Years

By TOM STIMMEL

BETHANY, W. Va. (P)—It looked like another miserable year at Bethany College, where winless seasons no longer are a novelty.

Of the 29 men who reported for the start of fall practice, 11 of them had never even played high school football. One of the most determined of the lot was a high school cheerleader.

It would have been enough to dash the hopes of a less hardy spirit than that of Coach John J. Knight.

From such an unpretentious start, Knight has fashioned a squad that remains one of the few undefeated and untied teams in the country, already has given Bethany, enrollment about 500, its first winning season in 15 years.

Fullback "Fuzzy" Karr had to confine his football enthusiasm to leading cheers in high school at Crafton, a Pittsburgh suburb, because he weighed 125. Now a senior at Bethany, Fuzzy weighs 160 and is leading the team defensively for the fourth straight year.

None of the 29 Bethany Bisons is enrolled on an athletic scholarship. The college doesn't offer any. But some have other grants.

Three first stringers came on academic scholarships and the varsity center is one of two squad members enrolled on pre-ministerial scholarships. Four varsity players are honor students.

A brutal trampling on the gridiron has been the historical reward for Bethany's football volunteers. Back in the 1930s, just after Knight came, the Bisons de-emphasized with a flourish and suffered through 20 straight games without a victory.

Nobody knows why the Bisons are so out of character this year. "It's just been working out that way," Knight said with a smile.

So far this season, Bethany has beaten Ohio Wesleyan 28-6, trampled Davis and Elkins 45-0, Hiram 61-0 and Allegheny, Pa., 27-13.

Football Briefs

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P)—Team physicians fear an ankle injury may keep Michigan back Jim Pace out of Saturday's Big Ten game with Illinois.

The sophomore left half turned his ankle in last Saturday's meeting with Iowa. Doctors said the ankle isn't responding to treatment.

The Michigan squad went through routine drills Tuesday in a steady rain.

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—Winless Northwestern omitted its regular Tuesday scrimmage to avoid further battering before the Big Ten encounter with Wisconsin at Dyché Stadium Saturday.

Coach Lou Saban ran the Wildcats through a dummy scrimmage, concentrating on pass defense against Wisconsin's fine throwing pair of Jim Miller and Jim Haluska.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (P)—Illinois' footballers scrimmaged in the mud Tuesday against Michigan plays as demonstrated by freshmen.

The unbeaten Wolverines play their second and final road game of the season here Saturday.

Illini quarterback Em Lindbeck skipped contact work because of an injured knee, but participated in other maneuvers.

Ron Hanson, 205-pound sophomore left end, was restored to the first string lineup in place of Gary Francis, who replaced him two weeks ago.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (P)—With winless Pennsylvania as the target, Notre Dame's football team Tuesday divided defensive and offensive preparations.

The first two Irish teams will spend the rest of the week alternating on the two phases of play, indicating Coach Terry Brennan may try platooning against the Quakers Saturday at Philadelphia.

MADISON, Wis. (P)—Only the linemen engaged in contact Tuesday as the Wisconsin Badgers ran through rushing and pass plays and defense tactics in preparation for Saturday's football game with Northwestern.

Coach Ivy Williamson announced that end Dave Howard, who injured his knee in the Ohio State game Oct. 22, may be able to play against Minnesota in the final game of the season. Howard definitely will miss the Northwestern and Illinois contests.

CHARGE MAN THREW HOT WATER ON TWO HALLOWEENERS

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A 39-year-old man was held Tuesday on a charge of aggravated assault and battery after he allegedly threw a pan of hot water at two little girls following the Halloween custom of "trick or treat."

Police said the two girls, Victoria Jubilee and Priscilla Coulter, both 11, rang the doorbell at the home of Nelson Stevens Monday night and shouted "trick or treat."

Stevens came to the door, police said, and told the two girls: "Yes, I have something for you. Wait a minute."

Moments later, police said, he returned to the front door and threw the pan of hot water at the costumed youngsters.

The girls ran home and then were taken to Women's Medical College Hospital. Victoria was detained with burns of the face and neck. Priscilla was discharged after treatment for burns of the chest and both arms.

Stevens was quoted by detectives as saying he "was sick and tired of kids ringing the doorbell."

72% CORN CRIBBED SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—About 72 per cent of the Illinois corn crop is cribbed, the State-Federal Agriculture departments and the Weather Bureau said Tuesday.

Approximately 1,600,000 acres of corn picked in the last week brought the total so far to 6,700,000.

Soybean combining was almost done, with all but 5 per cent of the crop harvested.

Six per cent of the winter wheat seeding remained ahead.

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR SELLING TWIN SONS

DENVER (P)—A Denver woman bartender was arrested Tuesday on a charge of selling her twin sons born out of wedlock to a wealthy California couple for $50 and her hospital bill.

Ray Humphreys, chief investigator of the district attorney's office, said the twins were born in Colorado General Hospital Jan. 9 and are in the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toler of Arcata, Calif. He said the Toler's are trying to adopt the children.

The mother, Mrs. Margaret Miller Frederickson, 32, is accused of illegally relinquishing the children.

HIGHER AUTHORITY

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (P)—An unidentified minister told Police Judge James McWhorter that his car was ticketed for overtime parking while he was visiting a patient, critically ill in Charleston General hospital.

"Your honor," he said, "the job of saving the man's soul took longer than I expected and I'm sure his salvation is worth the price of one parking ticket."

Judge McWhorter tore up the ticket.

Paper's Suggestion Northwestern Get Out Of Big Ten Attacked

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—A campus newspaper's suggestion that Northwestern should follow the University of Chicago out of the Big Ten because of its poor football record Tuesday drew a sharp counter-attack from school officials and the conference.

John Dressel, a senior from Granite City, Ill., editor of the Daily Northwestern, in an editorial advocated withdrawal from the Big Ten because the Wildcats lacked the athletic resources to compete week after week at the conference level of competition.

It was the same cry raised by the Chicago Maroons when in 1946 they left the Big Ten "due to inability to provide reasonable equality of competition."

"I do not think the editorial in the Northwestern reflects the feeling of the administration, alumni or students," said Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson, who served 20 years as Northwestern athletic director before assuming his present job.

"Northwestern was a founding member of the Big Ten and has had a proud and distinguished athletic record."

Ted Payseur, Northwestern athletic director, voiced the opinion of the school's administration, declaring that "we have no intention whatsoever of leaving the Big Ten."

"These things always seem to come up," he added. "We were one of the first seven members of the conference and we intend to stay."

Northwestern finished second in the conference football race in 1948 and defeated California 20-14 in the Rose Bowl. But since that time, the downfall has been gradual. It has won only one Big Ten game in the last three years and so far this season has failed to win in six starts.

In other sports, the Wildcats have fared better and this basketball campaign they may become title contenders.

Northwestern is a privately endowed institution, the only one in the conference that receives no state financial aid. Recruiting advantages, comparatively, are limited. Tuition is about four times that of the state university at Champaign, Ill.

Despite disadvantages in luring prospective athletes, the football coaching position has been as stable as any in the Big Ten in the past. Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf served 12 years before resigning to go to California in February 1947. Bob Voigts stayed on until late last winter until he resigned under what has been termed "alumni pressure."

His assistant, Lou Saban, who at 33 is the conference's youngest head coach, took the helm in what was considered a stop-gap job on a one-year contract.

He was supposed to have one of the school's finest freshmen crops coming up since the war. But recurring injuries to key men robbed him of much of the team's potential.

"We are just going on, doing the best we can," Saban said Tuesday. "I might say that our frosh squad looks pretty good. Also, I personally have never received any phone calls or letters from irate alumni. I think most of them know what we are up against and understand."

F. George Seulberger, chairman of the Northwestern Faculty Athletic Committee, said:

"No member of the committee or the administration ever has entertained the slightest idea of withdrawing from the Big Ten. We shall continue in the conference indefinitely."

Leading players on the Northwestern team, including Capt. Sanford Sachs, center, agreed that "it is ridiculous" to suggest withdrawing from the conference.

"I dislike defeatism, and that's what this editorial sounded like," said senior halfback Jerry Weber.

White House Policeman Wins Heart Trophy

WASHINGTON (P)—A sharpshooter on the White House police force received the William Randolph Hearst Trophy for winning the 24th annual International Pistol Tournament.

The tournament was held from Aug. 18 through Aug. 21 at Teaneck, N. J.

Shooting at a bull's eye only one and one-half inches across from a distance of 75 feet, Crawford, 41, scored 289 direct bull's eyes out of 300 shots.

He was competing against military and civilian pistol experts of the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, the Canal Zone and Hawaii.

LEAVES CLUB

GREEN BAY, Wis. (P)—George Timberlake, defensive back of the Green Bay Packers, left the club Tuesday to go into military service and was replaced on the roster by Jack Spinks, a guard and tackle.

HIKES NEWSPRINT PRICE

NEW YORK (P)—Montgomery Paper Co., paper merchants, today increased the price of newspaper by $3 a ton.

East Germany Proposes Talks With Bonn Regime

GENEVA (P)—An East German delegation proposed to the Big Four foreign ministers Tuesday that talks between East and West Germany be held soon to prepare for free elections to unify a neutralized Germany.

Western diplomats viewed the proposal, backed by the Soviet Union, as nothing more than a new propaganda bid.

This view was reinforced by reports from a special briefing given by the entire Communist press here by a Soviet spokesman who said "there will be no German reunification at the Big Four

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Selected rail and industrial issues improved in a mixed bond market Tuesday. Trading was light. U. S. Treasury obligations were irregular with strength concentrated in the intermediates. Trading declined on the Big Board to $3,130,000 par value from $3,482,000 Monday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Traders displayed a growing indifference to the stock market Tuesday, and prices held quietly steady. It was difficult to read any significance into the action of the market. Buying and selling was highly selective. There were no mass movements in principal groups of stocks.

Key stocks registered changes in the small fractions for the most part, and there was limited response to corporate developments. Brokers believe the market currently is facing a test of the lows established three weeks ago after the major reaction that came with news of President Eisenhower's illness. In the process, it was pointed out, the market could well experience a marked period of drift without prices registering any great changes.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held unchanged at 168.70 with the industrial component off 30 cents, rails up 10 cents, and utilities ahead 20 cents.

Volume dwindled down to 1,590,000 shares as compared with 1,800,000 Monday when the market was down a little. The total was the smallest in two weeks.

There was a narrow mixture of gains and losses on the American Stock Exchange with trading a low 460,000 shares. That compares with 640,000 Monday.

FEED GRAINS END FIRM ON OTHERWISE EASY MARKET

CHICAGO (AP) — Feed grains ended firm in an otherwise mostly easy market on the Board of Trade Tuesday.

Prices backed and filled throughout the entire session. A characteristic of the trading from the start, however, was the relative firmness of oats. At the finish the other feed grain, corn, came ahead on a buying spurt.

Wheat closed 1/2 cent to 1/4 higher, corn 1/2 to 1 cent higher, oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, rye 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, soybeans unchanged to 1/2 lower and laid 10 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower.

A good demand for cash corn and oats was a help to the futures of these cereals. No. 2 yellow corn sold from $1.19 1/2 to $1.20 1/4. This compared with the low of $1.13 on Oct. 24.

Italy purchased 720,000 bushels of corn overnight, following purchase yesterday of 1,200,000 bushels.

Mild hedging pressure was detrimental to wheat. It was said elevator houses were trying to get rid of wheat to make room for storing corn. With cash corn still selling at a big discount under the December corn future, storing corn is a profitable operation.

Soybeans were firm most of the day but the fact they weren't able to extend the fairly sharp upturn of the previous session brought in some profit taking from local traders toward the finish. Japan is due to purchase 783,000 bushels of soybeans Friday.

A slightly better tone was shown by soybean oil and meal in the cash market. Loose lard remained unchanged at 10 cents a pound.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP) — Receipts were higher than expected in the hogs Tuesday and prices declined despite an active demand and early clearance of all offerings.

Butchers sold 15 to 25 cents. Sows were off 25 cents. Most 190 to 280-pound butchers went at $13.50 to $14.00 while sows brought $12.00 to $13.25. Salable receipts at 16,000 head were 2,000 above expectations.

A few lots of butchers reached $14.10 and $14.15. Thirty-nine head set the top at $14.35.

Steers and heifers sold steady to 25 cents lower. Top on prime steers was $23.50 with most choice and prime kinds going at $19.50 to $23.00. Heifers topped at $21.50 for prime while most good to high choice went at $18.00 to $21.00. Salable receipts totaled 7,000.

Cows sold steady to weak at $10.00 to $12.50 for utility and commercial. A few commercial and good young cows sold up to $14.00. Vealers were steady to $1.00 lower at $26.00 down.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,000. Lambs sold steady to weak at $17.50 to $20.00 for good to prime woolled offerings.

CHICAGO TO RESUME SALK INOCULATION PROGRAM

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Board of Health plans to resume its Salk inoculation program next week.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board, said enough vaccine is on hand to give second inoculations to the 90,000 school children who received their first shots last spring.

There have been published reports that Senate Republican leader Knowland is expected to declare for the Republican presidential nomination if Eisenhower declines to seek it.

At one time as many as 1,000 volunteers helped police look for the child, who disappeared after his mother left him outside a supermarket Monday.

The boy's father, Jerry Damman, 26, a continental air command sergeant, joined the search. The mother, Marilyn, was given sedatives.

Civil Air Patrol planes flew over the approximately 15 square miles in which the hunt was concentrated. Navy helicopters from Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn were also used.

During the night bloodhounds were brought from the state police barracks at Hawthorne, N. Y. The search area covers fields, woods, streams, construction sites and new homes in this fast-growing suburb which already has a population of 50,000.

Little Stephen disappeared while his mother was in the shopping center supermarket. She left the youngster outside to watch his sister, Pamela, 7 months old, who was in her carriage.

When Mrs. Damman came out 10 minutes later she found the carriage and children gone.

Police located Pamela and the carriage around the corner and in back of the market. She was unhurt. Police said the little boy could not possibly have pushed her there, since he would have had to get around traffic, cross a driveway and go over rough ground.

Police broadcast an appeal to motorists to examine the trunks of their cars to make sure the youngster was not trapped inside.

THROWS PARTY AT BANK
LOS ANGELES (AP) — A municipal court judge has presented bank janitor Edmund Costa with the "cover charge" for the party at the bank last weekend, after hours. The tab came to $10 per person.

Costa and companions Manuel Holguin and Refugio Sevenses held their party Sunday at a Bank of America branch where Costa work. A pedestrian spotted the trio drinking and called police.

SHOT HUSBAND—Mrs. William Woodward, Jr., who shot her millionaire socialist husband to death, is shown when she was Ann Eden Crowell, a glamorous radio actress, in 1942. A year later, she met and married Woodward, owner of Belair stables with its star performer, Nashua. The 40-year-old Mrs. Woodward told police she had mistaken her husband for a prowler at their Long Island home.

LITTLE BOY BLUE' INDICTED
CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating the policy game gambling rackets indicted Harold (Little Boy Blue) Parker Tuesday. Parker, 43, a Negro, had appeared before the jurors four times.

The indictment charged perjury on five counts. Among other things, it accused Parker of lying about his dealings with Claude Murphy.

Murphy, a former policy gambling figure, is serving time in Stateville Penitentiary for operating a confidence game. Murphy also has been a witness before the grand jury.

BACK FROM EXILE—A Moroccan dignitary bows low to pay homage to former Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, left, after the latter returned to France from two years in exile. The 47-year-old Sultan, traveling with 21 wives and concubines, was given a joyous welcome at Nice, France, by throngs of followers. He said he hoped to return to Morocco soon.

Ike May Fly Home Nov. 11

to try to get the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower to Gettysburg for the anniversary.

President Castillo Armas of Guatemala who led a revolt that ousted a Communist-installed regime in his country will fly here Nov. 9.

Castillo Armas arrived in Washington Monday on a state visit in response to an invitation extended by Eisenhower prior to his Sept. 24 heart attack. The meeting in Denver will substitute for formalities that had been planned at the White House.

Full military honors will be accorded Castillo Armas both on his arrival here at Lowry Air Force Base and at the hospital where Eisenhower is moving steadily along the road to recovery.

It still is anyone's guess when the President will get around to talking politics and dispelling the uncertainty over whether he will try for a second term.

Cabinet members—Secretary of Labor Mitchell will see the President Wednesday—have been sounding a refrain that it is entirely inappropriate for him to bring up politics with Eisenhower at this time.

Postmaster General Summerfield indicated Monday that administration officials are waiting for the President to give the signal on that.

Risk Firm Says Man Died Before Policy Payable

CHICAGO (AP) — A widow is trying to collect $5,000 from an insurance company which contends her husband died a day before his policy became payable.

David Oshrain took out a $5,000 life insurance policy with the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of Chicago on May 23, 1953. Two years to the day—May 23, 1955—Oshrain died of a kidney infection.

His widow, Beatrice, alleged in a Circuit Court suit that the company refused to pay her claim, contending the two years which must elapse before the policy became payable did not start until the day after it was issued.

Mrs. Oshrain, mother of three daughters, refused the company offer to refund the $138 her husband had paid in premiums.

Loses Another Battle In 8-Year War Against Taxes

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Irene Whetstone lost another battle in her eight year war against taxes.

The 58-year-old grandmother was in U. S. District Court Monday to battle a $2,039.03 government claim for income taxes for the years 1944 and 1946.

She has fought the claim for eight years in numerous courts, including the U. S. Supreme Court, which refused to rule on it.

Monday she acted as her own lawyer, but when she got up to develop questions about the legality of taxes Judge Joseph Sam Perry refused to listen.

"This case is terminated," the judge said. "x x x We're not going to decide the jurisdiction of the United Nations or what Congress can do."

Mrs. Whetstone contended tax money is being used illegally to aid foreign governments. She tried unsuccessfully to introduce copies of the Lend Lease Bill, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Act, the Bretton-Woods agreement and the British loans agreement.

There was just one witness—an Internal Revenue Service clerk who testified about the size of Mrs. Whetstone's income and the amount of taxes she owed—and the government rested its case.

The judge took the case under advisement, postponing the ruling on what taxes, if any, Mrs. Whetstone owed. She is self-employed as an engineer of office equipment.

It was the second riot at the warehouse in five months. Tear gas was used to put down a disturbance June 8.

500 Airmen Join Hunt For Buddy's Missing Son

EAST MEADOW, N. Y. (AP) — Five hundred airmen from Mitchell Air Force Base today joined a mass search for the missing son of one of their buddies.

The airmen began a house-by-house, ditch-by-ditch combing of this New York suburban community after an all-night search failed to locate little Stephen Damman, two-months short of three years old.

At one time as many as 1,000 volunteers helped police look for the child, who disappeared after his mother left him outside a supermarket Monday.

The boy's father, Jerry Damman, 26, a continental air command sergeant, joined the search. The mother, Marilyn, was given sedatives.

"Politics has no place in farm legislation. What is the dirt-farmer's view of the farm legislation? Sincerely, I would like to know."

That is the opening statement by Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton on a questionnaire he is mailing to more than 30,000 rural box holders in the 14 counties of the 20th district, with an invitation to air their views.

"If interested, please answer the following questions and return them to me at 1709 House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 'Congressman Simpson said in his written invitation to round up sentiment in this district.

On the questionnaire Simpson wanted to know if:

Do you comply with any farm legislation program now?

If eligible, did you vote at the wheat election?

Did you comply with the corn program?

Do you want government help on hogs and cattle?

Are you a dairy operator?

Do you want government help on dairying?

Are you in favor of any farm program?

Are you in favor of soil conservation and help?

Do you want soybeans included as a basic crop?

Do you believe in control of diverted acres?

Do you favor rigid or flexible supports?

"I believe those on a farm and those within towns and cities who are farm-operators should be interested in replying," Congressman Simpson told The Journal Courier.

EPISCOPAL MINISTER, LOVER OF JAZZ, TAKES TV'S $32,000, QUILTS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, an unusual combination of Episcopal minister and jazz music lover, Tuesday night stopped short of the top prize on "The $64,000 Question." He took the $32,000 he already had won.

So far only one contestant has tried for the big cash giveaway, Marine Capt. Richard McCutchen won $64,000. Others have won $32,000 and quit.

The personable minister said he decided the $32,000 "which inadvertently came to me" was a "resource and opportunity to support many movements in our world—movements laboring and struggling for brotherhood."

Therefore, he said, he would keep the money rather than risk losing it in a try for more. If he had missed the last question he would have gotten a consolation prize of an expensive car.

He is pastor of Trinity Church in Oxford, Ohio.

After general consternation, the ladies decided to call police. No body could explain where the money came from.

Driving Tests Will Show Speed Dangers

Junior and senior students of Jacksonville High School will have an opportunity on Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock to see for themselves how the false impression and sense of security that a driver of a modern automobile often gets, can lead into the danger zone and trouble, when they participate in a series of driving tests. Principal John Agger announced Tuesday.

The tests, which will be given in two parts, will be under the direction of Arthur Henderson, safety director of the Country Mutual Casualty Company.

The first section will be a lecture in the high school auditorium, while the second will be a demonstration on West Morgan Street at the side of the new gymnasium. Mr. Henderson will also demonstrate correct and incorrect driving habits.

The high point of the demonstration will come, however, when driving tests are made with various students and faculty members in the specially equipped car. An electric detonator which is mounted on the front bumper of the car will fire yellow paint bullets to indicate the distance required to stop the car in an emergency.

The driver being tested will be signalled to stop by the report of the first shell. The second will be fired automatically when the brake is applied and the third when the car halts. Distance between the spots will then be measured to determine the reaction and braking distances.

The tests will be limited to 20, 30, and 40 miles per hour speeds, because of the danger in making emergency stops at higher speeds. Police officers will be used as drivers in the high speed tests.

City, county and state police are cooperating with the high school, and the Country Mutual Casualty Company in presenting this highway safety program. The public is invited to attend the lecture as well as the demonstration.

Mrs. Carl Gordon Called By Death; Funeral Friday

Stella Cline Gordon died at Passavant Memorial Hospital at 7:30 a.m. Nov. 1, following 10 days hospitalization as a result of a coronary thrombosis.

Mrs. Gordon was born in Murrayville, Dec. 21, 1886, the daughter of Dr. Arthur M. and Ann Elizabeth Cline. Following the death of her father, the family moved to Jacksonville where she attended the Jacksonville public schools and Illinois College.

In childhood she united with the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Gordon was active in State Street Presbyterian and First Presbyterian churches and was a member of the latter at the time of her death.

On Aug. 23, 1910, she was united in marriage with Carl O. Gordon and moved to Spokane, Wash., where her husband was superintendent of the Orchard Park school system for 14 years. The two sons of this union, James Arthur Gordon, of Manchester, and Raymond Carlton Gordon of Boston, Mass., were born in Spokane.

Mrs. Gordon is survived by her husband, Carl O. Gordon; two sons, James Arthur and Raymond C. Gordon; and one sister, Mrs. Edna C. Day of Spokane, Wash.; one grandson, James Cuddy Gordon of Manchester and several nieces and nephews.
